A. E. MAY.

We clip from the Tusculum Democrat the following notice of the death of a venerable lady who is known and respected in Pulaski:

Died, on 16th of March, at the residence of her nephew, Dr. Walker, in this county, Mrs. Bessie Jones, aged about 84 years. She was long a citizen of Pulaski, Tenn., and was visiting at her nephew's when she received the summons of her Maker.

Mr. Edgar Reese, who went to Texas last fall, returned to Giles county last week, satisfied that he had seen the western country, and leaving Texas he stopped in Arkansas to see his brother, Mr. Ernest Reese, and while there the latter was taken with a congestive chill and died.

Mr. Edgar Reese then brought the widow of his deceased brother and her two children back to her former home in this county.

CLOTHING STORE OF Bishop McTeirle.

The Columbia District Conference will be held at Olivet church, 7 miles north of Pulaski, June 3d and 5th. Bishop McTeirle will preside at the conference.

A Strange Freak.

A mare belonging to Capt. W. F. Ballentine, on his farm at Bradshaw, dropped two colts, one a mule and the other a horse. They came within about two hours of each other. There is no mistake about it. Capt. Ballentine tells it himself, having been present when the thing occurred. It is a strange freak of nature, indeed. The colts both came dead, yet were well developed. It occurred Sunday.

Sick.

Mr. Roland Rankin has been confined in bed a week or two with fever, but is improving.

Mr. James Matthews has been suffering with pneumonia for over a week, but we learn he is now recovering.

We hear that Mrs. John English is ill, as is also Mrs. Beshears.

Sheriff Arrowsmith went home quite sick yesterday threatened with bilious fever.

No Postmaster Yet.

The dispatch published in these columns last Thursday that Mr. T. L. Morgan had been appointed postmaster for Pulaski was confirmed by the great dispatches the same day. Mr. Jno. D. Lewis, the present incumbent, has returned, however, and we learn that the nomination of Morgan is uncertain.

Mr. Lewis still hopes to be appointed, but does Mr. Morgan, but it is whispered that Col. T. H. Gibbs has the drop on both of them. We fellows who can't expect any crumbs can at least enjoy the crumbs of these fellows under the president's table.

The Old Reliable Boot and Shoe Firm.

J. H. Cannon & Co. again call your attention to their very large stock of Boots, Shoes and Hats which they now have on hand, and are selling at very greatly reduced prices. They have been pleased to have their former patrons and the public generally call and examine their stock before purchasing.

It is a source of much gratification to us to know that our efforts are appreciated. The Citizens at various times has made departures and instituted enterprises that were immediately imitated by other appreciative country papers, eager to catch up to good things. Our latest move was in introducing a stock column, and this was so manifestly good that others have adopted it in imitation. We are glad to be able to show a journalistic eye for the good things of the world.

The little pupils of the Cottage School, in their holiday last Friday afternoon, and were given a candy feast by the principal, Miss Sallie Shapard. Their little hearts fairly leaped with joy as they would string the delectable taffy on their little fingers through their sweet little fingers through their silken tresses. They rarely forget such merriment, and at least until they get the tangles out of the aforementioned tresses, and the stickiness out of their apron bosoms.

Wanted.

Everybody in Giles county to know that J. S. Childers & Bro's is the place to buy Groceries.

Died, of consumption, at his residence, three miles south of here, on Thursday night, the 24th inst., Mr. L. F. (Pe) Marks, aged about 41 years. He had been lingering for several days, nay, several weeks, on the verge of recovery, but he died peacefully, having lived with the comfortable assurance that he was well with him. He was a brave soldier in the Confederate army, and joined it at the early age of twenty years. A wife and two children survive him.

All parties owing me for last year's accounts are requested to settle by the 10th of April. Cannot wait any longer. m23-tf

Mr. Fulton S. White was in to see us Monday. He relaxes no effort to induce good farmers to come here from the best fields in Ohio and with proper effort on our part we could more than make up for Kansas outflows. He thinks, and so do we, that the country will be better in ten years when these fellows have all gone to Kansas and their places filled by good northern men.

On last Sunday spring was containing Samuel Williamson, esq., who lives a few miles south of town, his wife and daughter, Mrs. Jno. Potts, and also an infant of Mrs. Potts, was turned over about four miles this side of Prospect. W. had his leg badly bruised, and one arm of his wife was broken, while the other two occupants escaped unhurt.

A good selected stock of Towels and Napkins, very cheap. m23-tf

The effects of careful handling of cotton was exemplified in a sale made in Nashville by Mr. T. O. Abernathy on the 12th. He sold a bale of cotton for 12 cents, when 10 was the very highest market quotation. He got more than New York quotations on that day. The reason was that it was extra clean and well put up. It will pay to be more careful.

Two young gentlemen, one of them a drummer and the other a semi-stranger, dropped in at the ladies' prayer meeting at the Methodist church the other morning. They had taken seats before they discovered they were the only men present and then all the facts dawned upon them. They exchanged glances and blushed and hitched up to each other and each asked the other how they were to slip out of the predicament, but before they had a chance to slip a lady called attention to them and said she supposed they were new and prayed for, and the whole congregation of ladies dropped down and prayed for them. Imagine their confusion then—but it does not amount to half that surprise they will experience when they wake up in heaven and find that these ladies' prayers brought them there. The embarrassment on such an occasion is greatly overbalanced by the good it ought to do to a fellow to have a whole church full of ladies praying for him.

Two Prospect beauties received a pressing telegraphic invitation to attend a ball at Athens, signed Geo. Van—, Tom Bu— and others. The young ladies answered: "Will be delighted to avail ourselves of your kindness."

The boys there were delighted and they spent enough on the bar to set him up in the wholesale business, and when they were polished up and smelt like a drug store show case they got the finest turnout in the city and went to the depot to meet the train that should bring the young ladies, their hearts a flutter. Just before the train arrived the operator got the bad news of the telegram, as follows: "At another time."

It seems that this little tail end of the dispatch got hitched in a knot where the wire is tied together at the state line and didn't get to Athens in time to save the wail that was wasted on the boys' mistakes.
